

A Brave Warrior

Once upon a time there was a brave warrior, she was the best warrior in the whole kingdom.

For that reason the king sent her to kill the most fearsome and huge dragon that lived in the volcano and that was humanity's principal enemy. She accepted without any doubt.

When she arrived at the volcano, the dragon was sleeping. It was about 40 meters long, but the brave warrior wouldn't be intimidated that easily, so she unsheathed her sword and hit the dragon in the head with all her strength. But, unfortunately, that did not do any harm to the dragon, it only made her sword break and the fearsome beast woke up. After that day she was never seen again.

The End.

Natividad Vico-Gimena