

The monster of the lake

Once upon a time there was a princess named Ava, who liked going to parties. She had beautiful long pink blonde hair, big blue eyes and a very good style. She was short and chubby. She lived in an enormous castle, which had lots of flowers and plants. She had a best friend named Jack, who loved animals. He had short curly brown hair, grey eyes and a pointed nose. He was tall and muscular. They were so close that it seemed that Jack lived in Ava's castle. Ava's father, the king, was a very honest person. He had long wavy white hair and blue eyes. He was short and fat.

One night they were camping in the woods near the castle and the king told Ava and Jack a story about a monster that was in the woods.

- There is a legend about a monster who lives near that lake, - said the king pointing to the lake that was near the castle - it's a big, strong and green monster. He attacks his victims without mercy. He appears at night, when the moon is out.

- Did that ever appear for real? -asked Ava

- No, it's only a legend. - said the king

Ava and Jack didn't give importance to the legend. They went to look for sticks to make a fire because it was already dark. On their way they found a rabbit who told them:

- Don't go along that path! -

They didn't give importance to that either because they were strong headed, and they continued going in that way. It was so dark that they couldn't see each other. Ava started to feel thirsty so she drank some water from the lake. She started feeling dizzy so she vomited. Then she touched her body and she felt different... SHE WAS THE MONSTER!!
